

International Happiness, sketch 1: By Lucy Green

Martin Seligman, of UPenn has poineered hapiness studies that are secured by the school of positive psychology. The studies continue and the veracity maintains authenticity. This repre-sentation would allow people to 'game' their hapi-ness all in one chart. Instead of adding separate answers to a secrete algorithnm.

The trick of using this Klee drawing as a model is the space between options, there is a beauty in the dimensions created with the two-di-mentional space implying three dimensions... implying a marble maze...

I haven't yet found the twitter equive-lent but I'm sure there are hashtags that correspond, and ones that are derogatory. This can also be part of the project.
